

Prop Firm Survival Guide

Why 90% of traders don't fail because of strategy – but because of timing, structure & missing protection

Most traders believe they just need the right entry.

The problem is:

Most accounts don't die because of wrong entries.

They die because of wrong timing.

Or because nobody stops the trade when it escalates.

I'm ThorVig.

And at some point, I asked myself a simple question:

Why are there thousands of bots... but no system that actually supports me in daily trading?

The Real Problem

After years of trading, it became clear to me:

✗ Wrong Timing

Low Volume phases, News chaos, Dead sessions

✗ No Clear Structure

No trend filter, no multi-timeframe logic

✗ No Protection

EA keeps running, emotion takes over

The Solution: A Clear Framework

✓ TIMING – Session Pilot

When is trading actually worth it? → Better sessions, fewer junk trades

✓ TREND – Trend Pilot

H4 → Direction · H1 → Structure · M15 → Entry

✓ PROTECTION – Aurora Guardian

Hard Stop · Panic Button · Automatic intervention

The Crucial Difference

Most tools want to tell you: "Click here → get rich"

Aurora does the opposite:

Structure instead of chaos

Discipline instead of emotion

Protection instead of hope

Practice, Not Theory

I post daily market analysis with clear structure:

H4 Direction → H1 Confirmation → M15 Entry

No gimmicks. No colorful arrows. Just a clear system.

You don't need a new bot.

You need a system that prevents you from making the same mistakes over and over again.
